Hot Water

Harness the power of the sun...

Australians love their sunshine - and we sure have plenty of it! But we can do more than just enjoy it, we can harness the power of the sun for our own energy needs. Using a solar system is a great way for you to reduce Greenhouse gas emissions. However, make sure it is a gas-boosted solar system, because many people undo all the good work of installing a solar system by boosting it with an electric system. With a gas-boosted solar hot water system you'll always have plenty of hot water (even when the sun isn't shining), and you'll be vastly reducing the cost to our environment.

Unflued

Heating

For real warmth, go with gas

There's no better way to provide real warmth to every corner of your home than with the ambient warmth of a gas heater. There is a wide range of Gas heaters to choose from, so whether its the speed or effectiveness of a radiant or convector heater you need for your home Elgas can accommodate you.

Portable Gas Heaters (Unflued)

These heaters are cost effective to run and provide two - four times more effective heating than similar electric models. Choose from either a radiant (direct heat) or a fan assisted convection heater or the combination of both - radiant and convection. A portable heater can be moved where needed, from one room to another as long as each room has an approved bayonet connection. They are also much easier to take with you should you move house. In some areas there may be restrictions associated with unflued heaters, so it is recommended that you check with your retailer prior to purchase.

Fluing Options...

Just like a traditional wood burning fireplace requires a chimney, a gas log fire requires a flue. There are many variations in how a gas log fire can be flued and many different variables that will influence what product suits you - such as the environment or the space it will be installed in, or the technology used in the gas log fire you want.

"A site inspection by a qualified installer is recommended to advise on exact flue requirements"

ELGAS

Gas cooking is the ultimate lifestyle choice, with instant controllable heat, we can all create culinary masterpieces.

Cooking

ELGAS

When it comes to cooking, there's simply no substitute for LPG

Leading chefs agree that the instant, controllable heat of a direct flame that wraps around the pan provides the ultimate cooking experience. With Elgas LPG, that experience is available to everyone, no matter where you live.

Elgas LPG is a safe, dependable energy source that can really boost performance. It's also far more responsive than other energies, which is particularly practical when instant heat and fingertip-control are so important. LPG gives you immediate heat on ignition that responds instantly to any change in setting and delivers a broader distribution of heat across the base of your cooking implements.
